

Haig Starts Offensive Near Ypres

ROAR OF GUNS HERALD BIG ALLIED DRIVE

British Drive Reported to Be on a Vaster Scale Than Ever

WIDE SECTOR CHOSEN FOR GREAT MANEUVER

Gen. Brussiloff Is Named Commander-in-Chief of Russian Armies

ISSUES APPEAL

Petrograd, June 5.—The council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates today sent a long statement to the socialist party and to trade unions of the world repeating its appeal to the people of the world to unite in resolute action in favor of peace, and which it has inscribed on its banner: "Peace without annexation or indemnity on the basis of rights of nations to decide their own destinies."

(By Associated Press.)

All the signs which heralded a great offensive are reported on the British front in France. Repeated announcements have been made of an artillery duel in the vicinity of the village of Wytschaete, five miles south of Ypres. From Vimy ridge, thirty miles away, the guns are roaring day and night, apparently indicating General Haig has chosen this wide sector for his next big blow. It is recalled that General Maurice, director general of military operations, predicted some weeks ago to the Associated Press that the next British offensive would be on a vaster scale than any preceding it.

The great importance of the Ypres salient lies in the fact that it is the only high land between the British and Lille. Once in possession of the British their guns would command the valley between the plateau and Lille, a distance of ten miles.

Opening of Parliament
The opening of the Austrian Parliament has caused some consternation in the German press and the Pan-German organs are filled with gloomy predictions over the political situation in the Dual Monarchy. Their uneasiness is largely based on the fact that the German party is in a marked minority in the Austrian Chamber of Deputies.

In Russia two events have given fresh heart to well wishers of the

TEN PERCENT OF PAVING BY GENERAL TAX

Resolution Fixing General Spread on Improvement Passed by Council, Best Dissenting

VOTE $1,700 FOR STREET FLUSHER

Ten per cent of the paving will be met by general assessment according to benefits arising. This decision was reached last evening by the city commission when it adopted a resolution proposed by R. C. Battey, chairman of the commission's paving committee.

R. L. Best as usual voted in the negative. It is the highest proportion of the improvement which legally can be met in this manner and lifts a considerable portion of the burden from the property owners.

Petitions from the South Side for sidewalks signed by ten of the twelve property owners involved were granted and the proper resolution passed. The city engineer was instructed to establish the proper grade.

R. L. Best as usual voted in the negative. Commissioner Kirk recommended that the city purchase a Studebaker combination flusher and sprinkler at a cost of $1,700. All voted in the affirmative even R. L. Best.

Howe's application for a license to operate a ferry was referred to the city attorney. He holds that no ferry rights can be granted to anyone within two miles of the ferry landing already licensed, known as the Rod Trail ferry.

The report of the city weigher showed receipts in the sum of $109.30.

Maximum Prices to Be Fixed

To Govern Dealings in Wheat and Corn on Chicago Exchange

$1.65 PER BUSHEL IS SCALE FOR CORN

Chicago, June 5.—Maximum prices on trading in futures of the two principal grain foods of the world will govern dealings in wheat and corn when the Chicago Board of Trade opens tomorrow after the registration holiday.

"For purely preventive reasons," a maximum of $1.65 a bushel for dealings in corn was prescribed by the directors yesterday after three weeks' upturns in prices had caused a similar action in regard to trading in wheat futures.

"The action is simply in support of the policy of President Wilson and his advisers to prevent the prices reaching abnormally high levels," said Peter G. Griffin, President of the Board.

NEEDED RAIN BOOSTS STATE CROP PROSPECTS

Soaking Rain From Beach to Valley City Brings Much Needed Moisture

SLIGHT DAMAGE TO RYE IS REPORTED

"It would be almost impossible to over-estimate the value of this rain, especially to the southern half of the state extending east from New Salem," said Commissioner of Agriculture Hagan this morning. "In this territory the need for rain had really become grave. I do not think that any crop aside from winter rye had really been harmed, but serious damage would have resulted from a few more days' drought. As it is, this rain is almost ideal. Practically all of the flax which will be planted this year is in the ground. In the southern half of the state the corn acreage is larger than before, and the seed is all in as a general thing, and this drizzling, gentle rain, comes at a most opportune time to insure the proper and prompt germination of the seed and a good start for the young seedlings."

The rain, Mr. Hagan believes, came too late to save winter rye in the southern part of the state, but there is such a comparatively small acreage that the loss is really not great.

Registration and a liberty loan rain. Some big day for the slope, eh? O. W. Roberts, meteorologist, states that the general drought over the state since May 1 is gradually being broken.

Rainfall General
Light scattered showers were reported to the local office of the weather Bureau during the week as follows: Laramore .05, Bottineau .02, Grand Forks .01, Grafton .01, Fessenden .18, Minot .15, Williston .43 and Dickinson 1.55.

The last named station enjoyed four separate showers during the week, the heaviest being last night when .95 inch fell. This storm is gradually working eastward and is causing much needed rain over the entire central and southern part of the state, reports at 11 a. m., showing rain as falling from Beach to Valley City. While crops have suffered to a limited extent all over the state, timely rains from now on will insure an excellent crop.

Winter rye is heading out short in many parts of the State and in some instances is being plowed under and the ground is being reseeded to flax. Frosts during the week did damage to gardens, fruit, and to early corn, but owing to the lateness of crops in general the total damage was slight.

Up to noon the rainfall in Bismarck and vicinity was .49.

CONVICTS RIOT AT JOLIET PEN; BURN BUILDINGS

Five Prison Structures Are Set on Fire—Militia Summoned to Quell Disturbance

1,600 PRISONERS BEYOND CONTROL OF GUARDS

Lax Discipline Among Inmates Known for Some Time—Warden Resigns

Joliet, Ill., June 5.—Serious rioting among convicts at the state prison broke out this morning. Five buildings were set on fire. Companies E and F, first Illinois infantry, now in federal service, and camped near here, were called to assist the guards in quelling the disturbance. The penitentiary is in the outskirts of the city. Three fire companies which responded to the alarm, met opposition to the convicts, who used bricks and tools stolen from the implement house to repel them. Some knives were also flashed.

Buildings Fired.
The buildings fired were the rafter and chair factories, which are of considerable size, the chapel, oil house and lumber shop, which are smaller structures within the big enclosure.

There are 1,600 convicts in the prison, and the situation soon was beyond control of the guards.

F. A. Bowen, temporary warden, telegraphed to Governor Lowden for military assistance.

For some time there have been reports of lax discipline at the prison, and an investigation was held by a legislative committee. Warden Zimmer resigned some time ago, to go to his home in Chicago and his successor has not been named.

Apparent at Breakfast.

The disorder first made itself apparent at breakfast. Dishes were hurled at guards, tables overturned, and the convicts surged into the grounds. They grabbed what missiles they could, and obtained more from the implement house. They set fire to the rafter shop twice, the first blaze having proved abortive. Other fires followed. The firemen from this city responded, but were opposed by the convicts, who threw volleys of bricks at them or engaged in personal encounters. Chief Roy was knocked down, but was rescued by his men. The battle was proceeding briskly when the soldiers arrived.

At noon a battalion of first Illinois infantry arrived. Two additional companies have been sent for. Prisoners were hemmed in in alleyways and behind buildings. Forbearance of the soldiers was due to the order of the warden that there be no shooting unless as a last resort. A guard named Hayward was injured by a bullet rebounding from a wall.

SEND TROOPS.

Springfield, Ill., June 5.—Federalized troops at Joliet were today placed at the disposal of authorities there to quell rioters among prisoners at the state penitentiary. Adjutant Dickson said, after communication by telephone with General Thomas Barry at Chicago.

600 Ballots In Bismarck School Bout

Comparatively Light Vote Cast in Annual Election for Board of Education

WOMEN OUTNUMBERED TWO TO ONE BY MEN

Six hundred ballots were cast today in Bismarck's annual school election. The vote is comparatively small, and not more than 200 women availed themselves of the franchise. In spite of the fact there were two women candidates. The counting of ballots began with the close of the polls at 4 o'clock, and it was expected the result would be known by 5.

Friends of A. P. Lechart and Cecil L. Burton, who paired off in the contest, standing on a platform of business and efficiency in the administration of school affairs, predict their election by a safe margin. Other candidates were E. H. Howell, Marcus A. Edberg, Joseph Schneider, Mrs. D. B. Shaw and Mrs. J. S. Arnold. Little interest was taken in the election generally, and the all-day rain probably was responsible for the small female vote.

MUST RETURN PROVINCES OF ALSACE-LORRAINE

French Chamber of Deputies in Secret Session Formulate Post-Bellum Demands

INSISTS ON LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

Declares in Democracy There Can Be No Secret Diplomacy

Paris, June 5.—By a vote of 453 to 55, the Chamber of Deputies in secret session has adopted a resolution declaring peace conditions must include the liberation of territory occupied by Germany, the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France, and just reparation for damages done in the invaded region. The resolution also favors the creation of a league of nations for the maintenance of peace. Speaking of the resolution Premier Ribot says: "This resolution affirms our national sovereignty. It declares that in a democracy like ours there can be no secret diplomacy. None can meddle with the national sovereignty. French policy is the policy of frankness and clearness."

"Appealing to what has been said by the president of the great Republic of the United States, we wish to establish in stable fashion justice and right for all nations, guarantee for tomorrow our children against the remnants of barbarity. If we fall back into old difficulties, the danger may be great, but France united cannot be vanquished. I ask you in the name of the Government, in the name of France, that your vote be unanimous."

BENDER TIRED OF DEFENDING HEBRON WINE

Case Goes by Default and Carload of the Cup That Cheers Will Be Spilled

"Where's your lawyer?"
"Haven't got any."
"Well, who owns the wine?"
"Don't know."
"Is it your wine?"
"No, 'tain't my wine."
"Guess there won't be much to this case, after all."

And so opened the Hebron Wine Case No. 2, yesterday afternoon. The questions were hurled at Peter Bender, alleged defendant in the noted Hebron wine case, by Judge H. L. Henke, and who naturally was expected to put up a fight to prevent the confiscation of thousands of quarts of wine.

The case was set for June 4 by Judge Henke and arranged for by State Attorney Connolly, to determine whether or not the carload of wine shipped to Hebron through the agency of Peter Bender by a California wine concern, was to be destroyed. It was naturally expected there would be a fight.

The case was called yesterday afternoon by Judge Henke, but the Hebron wine has no friends. There was no one there to claim it. No counsel to make any eloquent plea on the possibilities of what this or that law had to do with it. The result was Judge Henke smiled and said:

"Well, the decision of this court is that the wine shall be confiscated." So ends the Hebron Wine Case No. 2, and with the few words recorded by the authorizing justice the carload of expensive "good tasting kind" will at least furnish moisture for a portion of real dry Morton county soil.

REGISTRATION DAY PROCEEDS ORDERLY IN MOST PORTIONS OF UNITED STATES

RUSH OF MEN TO ENROLL FOR FOREIGN SERVICE

Expected That Ten Million Will Register Throughout Nation by 9 P. M. Today

ALIENS AS WELL AS CITIZENS LIST NAMES

From Registration There Will Be Conscribed Some 600,000 or 700,000 in September

ONE KILLED.
Ft. Worth, Texas, June 5.—A. Fulcher, a member of the Farmers' & Laborers' Protective association of America, who had hid himself in the woods heavily armed for the announced purpose of resisting conscription, was shot and killed yesterday by officers.

(By Associated Press.)

America is stepping forward today to do her part to make world safe for democracy.

In every city and town in the most remote valley hamlet, and on the widest mountain cross roads, ten million sons of liberty are inscribing their names on the honor roll of ages that the free government for which their fathers died may not perish from the earth.

All Classes
White or black, married or single, sick or well, alien or native born—every enemy subject—all between the ages of 21 and 31 are expected to present themselves today between 8 a. m. and 9 p. m. for registration. It does not matter that a man for any reason is deemed himself unfit for army duty. Exemptions will be attended to later. It does not matter if he is not a citizen of the United States, everyone within the prescribed ages must register.

To register is not to be drafted. This is another step in the great plan when the first increment of 650,000 men probably will be called to the colors early in September before they go to the front.

The Only Duty
In the meantime, today's duty is registration. The long arm of the Federal law is searching for those who seek to evade the duty of those called and those who by counsel or influence urge upon others to shirk it. The Department of Justice for the time being has put aside all other work. The great machinery of the Federal Government has concentrated today on the enforcement of the law. Of the approximately 10,000,000 men who register today, the Census Bureau estimates that 4,500,000 are married, and about 5,500,000 single.

Fargo, June 5.—Registration for the army draft is proceeding over the state without evidence of organized opposition according to U. S. Marshal S. J. Doyle, in charge of Federal agents who are watching the registration in North Dakota. It is believed the day will pass quietly.

Registration in this city began early. When the booths opened at 7 a. m. long lines of men were waiting and it was estimated two-thirds of the men had inscribed their name for service by 10 a. m. Several days ago it was asserted approximately 1,250 men would register here, but officials asserted today this number would be exceeded.

QUIET PREVAILS.
Milwaukee, Wis., June 5.—Early indications in Milwaukee were that a registration of men for draft would reach 35,000. Reports from various parts of the city show quiet prevails.

NO DISORDER.

St. Paul, Minn., June 5.—Thousands of Minnesotans reported at registration booths today and no disorders were heard at any point. In some towns the occasion was made a holiday.

Orders Out Militia

Lansing, Mich., June 5.—Governor Sleeper today wired orders to the commanding officer of Company "M," 33rd Michigan Infantry, at Marquette to hurry to Negaunee, a nearby mining town, with 25 of the national guard. Reports from that district to the Governor said that I. W. W. agitators there were threatening to forcibly oppose registration.

MASON HOLDING FORT; FRAZIER TALKS LEAGUE

With Dozens of Requests for Advice Pouring Into Office, Governor Is Off Job

TOWNLEY, BOWEN AND THOMASON AID CAUSE

Today, one of the most important in the history of the state and nation, with dozens of requests for information and advice pouring into the executive office, and with the possibility of a crisis developing at any moment, finds Governor Lynn J. Frazier off the job.

His secretary, N. A. Mason, recently recovered from a serious operation, holds the fort in the executive chambers, while Adjutant General T. H. Tharalson has been required to assume practically all executive powers in connection with today's registration.

Governor Frazier, with Townley, Bowen and Thomason, is at Devils Lake, extolling the virtues of the Non-Partisan league, which last election polled approximately 80,000 votes for the winning ticket, opened a campaign for more members which will continue until June 15. The speakers announced from league headquarters for the series are Governor Lynn J. Frazier, President, A. C. Townley and Organizers A. E. Bowen and O. M. Thomason. Other meetings scheduled are as follows: Williston, June 6; Minot, June 7; Grand Forks, June 8; Jamestown, June 9; Beach, June 11; Dickinson, June 12; Bowman, June 13; Mandan, June 15; Fargo, June 16.

"GOLDIE" GILL JURY IS STILL OUT

Late this afternoon the jury in the case of the state against Gill and Washington, colored, charged with larceny found a verdict of not guilty. The jury in the blind plea charge against Gill is still out.

The jury is still out in the case of the State vs. Goldie Gill, colored, charged with maintaining a common nuisance. Judge Neesle charged the jury shortly after 9 a. m.

The state then proceeded to try a case of larceny against "Goldie". He is charged with "frisking" pockets of one of his boarders in "Rabbit Row" at the foot of Seventh street.

All the colored gentry in town are in attendance either as witnesses or spectators.

German Agents Sent Here to Plant Wireless

New York, June 5.—The police announced today that they had information that the head of the alleged German wireless system came to this country, made plans regarding wireless outfits and other details through which information might be conveyed to Berlin, and then departed probably for Mexico. The arrangement of Herman Freneke, an electrical engineer arrested last night, charged with conspiracy in violating the postal laws, was expected to develop evidence in an alleged "underground" mail system to Germany. Just what connection Freneke had with the three men arrested Sunday was not divulged. It was believed other and more important arrests are to be made.

MONGOLIA FIRES ON SUBMARINE

London, June 5.—The American Steamship Mongolia fired four shots on June 1 at a German submarine, which discharged a torpedo at the liner. Neither vessel was damaged.

603 REGISTER IN BISMARCK BY 3:30 TODAY

Signing Up for Selective Service Progressing Better Than Anticipated

MORE THAN 50 PER CENT IN FIFTH WARD ALIENS

German-Americans Well Represented—Mandan's Supply Badges Exhausted Early

Registration Booths Will Remain Open Until 9 O'Clock Tonight. Affording Anyone Who Has Failed to Register to Date an Opportunity to Do So.

FARGO TOTAL HIGH.

Fargo, N. D., June 5.—At 2:30 this afternoon the enrollment in Fargo was 1428. It was estimated that 2050 would register in Fargo at this afternoon. The total number will have passed 1,500 before 3 o'clock.

Estimates of the total number to be registered in North Dakota today range all the way from 49,000 to 79,000. It is safe to predict, if registrations run as much in excess of anticipations in other sections as they have in Bismarck and Mandan, that the number signed today for selective service will not be less than 80,000. Of this number approximately 10 per cent will be drafted, and of the 8,000 who are expected not more than 4,000, it is estimated, will be called for service with the first army of 500,000, about September 1. At least six months probably will be occupied in preparing these troops for service.

With 603 registrations at 3:30 this afternoon, the signing up for the selective draft is progressing in Bismarck more rapidly than anticipated. The rain kept a large number from the polling places this morning, anticipating the skies clearing later in the day. The big rush in all the booths came at noon. This was especially true of the Ward 4 registration office in the Soo hotel, the Fifth, at the Grand Park, and the Sixth at the city hall.

At 3:30 the registrations in the various wards stood as follows:

Ward No. 1	63
Ward No. 2	100
Ward No. 3	86
Ward No. 4	116
Ward No. 5	132
Ward No. 6	106
TOTAL	603

Many Foreigners

The relatively high registration in Ward 4 is largely due to the fact that the bulk of the city's transient laborers are concentrated in that precinct. More than fifty per cent of all the registrations in that ward this morning came from aliens. German-American citizens were well represented. But four colored men had registered in this ward at noon, although practically all of the city's colored people, estimated at 150 to 200, reside in the Fourth.

It has been estimated that Bismarck should register between 600 and 700 eligibles for selective service today. Registrars are of the opinion that the total will exceed 700. Many working people were enabled to register early through the fact that the rain prevented work on the streets. Many others, however, are waiting until after supper this evening, when they can come down town in their Sunday best and make a proper rite of it.

Badges in Evidence

The khaki arm badges provided by the Commercial club and St. Mary's Sodality, are much in evidence. Justifiable "pride" is being shown by the wearers. Outside of raincoats, if out-of-doors, or undercoats or shirt-sleeves, if indoors, the little band of khaki is a mark of distinction everywhere, on the streets, in the hotel lobbies, in business offices and stores, at the state house, county, city and federal buildings. The wearers are of all ages and descriptions. A swarthy, dark-skinned man, a copper-colored comrade of Sioux blood, while a dusky negro and a pampered son of luxury, each with head up, march down the street, meet, recognize the select service order and instinctively form a bond of fellowship. Men who have lived in Bismarck all of their lives and never met are being brought together by a common cause. The little band of khaki possesses a world of significance for everyone who wears it, and for those who have not yet been chosen but are awaiting the call.

"Very few exemptions have been claimed," said R. E. Jones, registrar at Ward 1, this noon. "Everyone is ready to serve, proud of the opportunity which is being given. There has been no holding back, no disposition on the part of anyone to shirk his duty."

ORGANIZATION WORK IN PROGRESS NOW IN 40 DIFFERENT STATES

Work of organization similar to that in progress in North Dakota under the direction of the state efficiency commission is now under way in 40 states, according to the statement of R. J. Loth, special representative of the office of farm management, detailed to North Dakota for this campaign. It is believed the resultant utilization of emergency labor will begin to have an appreciable effect on the farm labor situation before the season has for advanced. Barber of Seville—Largo al Factotum (Room for the Factotum) Giuseppe De Luca Victor Red Seal Record 74511. Twelve-inch, $1.50

Figaro's great song from the Barber of Seville—the gayest and most difficult of all airs—is superbly interpreted by this famous baritone with joyous abandon. A wonderful piece of vocal display that vividly conjures before you the vain but likeable barber as he enumerates his many accomplishments. A record that is a worthy addition to any library of Victor Records.

You can have the pleasure of hearing this new De Luca record at any Victor dealer's. He will gladly play any music you wish to hear and demonstrate the various styles of Victor and Victrola—$10 to $400.

Rolla Scene of Tragedy—Was En Route to Devils Lake to Answer to Indictment

Rolla, N. D., June 5.—En route from their home to the residence of a priest who was to drive them to Rolla, expecting to board a train for Devils Lake, where Davis is under indictment for introducing liquor on the Turtle Mountain Indian reservation, Joseph Davis beat his wife to death with an iron bar while in the throes of a fit of mad jealousy, and then committed suicide.

Mrs. Davis, formerly Rachel Gardner of Belcourt, died within five hours. The couple had been married five years and had no children.

Mill City Man Receives Bomb

Minneapolis, June 5.—An unsuccessful effort to assassinate John D. Walker, with an internal machine, was made early today. Attempts of the assassin to ally suspicion probably saved his life. The machine, equipped with a timing device, which gave it three chances to explode was taken by the Minneapolis police.

A package neatly wrapped in paper was left on Walker's desk. On it was a tag with his name. Several other tags and labels were pasted on the package. One read: "A free trial," and others bore names of hardware and oil companies. On removing the wrappers, Mr. Walker found a box with a spring protruding. This aroused his suspicions and he turned it over to the police. When the box was opened under water, it was found to contain a pint of giant powder.

Mr. Walker said he knew of no one who would want to end his life, and could not name any suspects.

Washington, June 5.—Registration proceeded generally without disturbance throughout the country today and the few arrests reported were regarded not as evidence of organized resistance, but rather as sporadic affairs. PREJUDICE LEADS TO WRONG

Warps Our Judgment and Breeds Injustice, Unkindness and Even Cruelty, Says Writer.

Prejudice is an insidious thing. It creeps into the soul unawares. It leads us to say and do wrong things; it warps our judgment and leads to injustice, unkindness and even cruelty, says a writer in the Milwaukee Journal. It paves the way for hatred and malice. In proportion as we learn to clear our minds of prejudice we become better men and women; we win friends and dissolve enemies; we are more worthy of respect and confidence. No one wants to be judged by false standards that prejudice sets up. Beware of judging others in such light. Prejudice cramps the mind and the heart; it stands in the way of rightful growth of character.

It is wise to search your heart, and if you find prejudice there to set about to root it out wholly. Do not be sure you of all men are unprejudiced. That is the danger: for prejudice is guarded by vanity. Seek to be just in all things, small as well as great. In all the relations of life be sure you are not judging another, not for his error but from your prejudice. For the worst thing about this weakness is that it breeds injustice and unkindness and malice. It hurts innocent folk and makes no one happier.

Curiosity.
Some persons in high places were touched, once upon a time, with curiosity.

"It would be fun to see what sort of a living the world can make with one hand tied behind its back!" they remarked and so saying started the debate involving half the nations.

But their curiosity wasn't satisfied. "Let's see if the world can make any sort of a living with both hands tied behind its back!" they proposed, and drew the rest of the nations into the debate.

Hostilities were prolonged during a number of years, but in consideration of what they settled in the event they were well worth while.—Exchange.

Certain-teed

Everywhere under the sun—wherever roofs are laid—Certain-teed stands for these two things:

Efficiency Economy

CERTAIN-TEED roofing is the most efficient and economical type of roof for factories, office buildings, farm buildings, garages, etc., because the first cost is less than that of metal, wood shingles, or tar and gravel. This is particularly so now, because of the present high prices of some of the materials. CERTAIN-TEED costs less to lay than any other kind of roof. It will not rust, is not affected by fumes, gases and acids, coal smoke, etc.; it is light weight and fire retardant. Every rain washes it clean; and it does not melt or run under the hot rays of the sun, nor can it clog gutters and down spouts.

Certain-teed Roofing

is the best quality of prepared roofing. It pays to get the best. The only difference between the first cost of a good roof and a poor one is in the materials—the labor, freight, etc., costs the same in both. As CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply) it will be in splendid condition years after a poor quality roof has to be replaced.

For residences, Slate Surfaced Asphalt Shingles have all the advantages of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing, plus artistic beauty; not bulky, and are uniform in weight, quality and appearance. They need no paint, are pliable, eliminate waste and misfits, cannot curl, buckle, rot or crack. Guaranteed for ten years. Investigate CERTAIN-TEED before deciding on any type of roof. For sale by dealers everywhere.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes

are good, reliable products made by experienced paint men, who have at their command all the machinery, equipment, materials and resources necessary to manufacture good paints and varnishes economically—as well as the extensive selling organization and warehouse system of the Certain-teed Products Corporation, which materially reduces marketing costs. Guaranteed to give satisfaction.

It will pay you to see that you get CERTAIN-TEED Paints and Varnishes. Any good dealer can sell them to you or get them for you.

ANTIDOTES FOR BODILY POISONS

(By L. H. Smith, M. D.)

The victims of auto-intoxication are many thousands every day. By reason of the toxins, or poisons bred in the intestines, these poisonous bacteria are sent all through the blood channels and the victim feels tired, sleepy and headachy, or the brain doesn't work as usual. The best treatment for this is to drink hot water before breakfast—plenty of water all day and procure a simple laxative made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, etc., with no calomel and entirely vegetable, which can be obtained at any drug store, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Equally important is it to cleanse kidneys and bladder, and drinking plentifully of pure water will cleanse them to a certain extent. Then obtain at the drug store a little Anuric, which was first discovered by Dr. Pierce of Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y. Anuric (double strength) should be taken before meals. It is many times more potent than lithia in throwing off the poisonous accumulations of uric acid.

Through failure of kidneys to act, through congestion, inflammation, any person's condition is ripe for disease to fasten its hold upon the system.

Anuric has been tested for the past few years for kidneys, bladder, uric acid troubles, rheumatism, gout and such ailments as follow, and so many cases both acute and stubborn have yielded to this wonderful remedy that I do not hesitate to recommend it.

FIRST DISTRICT CONTEST.

North Dakota is vitally interested in the first district congressional contest. It will be the first test vote on the league's strength since it swung into power.

Townley is willing to go to the mat and puts forward as the most likely candidate one John Baer, recently democratic postmaster at Beach, the town where the league was conceived and born.

Mr. Baer has not lived in the district long enough to be identified with the politics of that section. He has never been accused of being a politician. On the other hand, he has the reputation of being a genial fellow, whose caricatures did much to visualize the working of Townley's versatile brain to the farmers of North Dakota.

He is solely a henchman of Mr. Townley's. Mr. Baer was unknown to politics until Mr. Townley started him out in his career of chalk and charcoal.

The selection of Mr. Baer means that Townley not only desires to test the league's strength in the First, but he desires to prove to his own satisfaction that Townley is still king of the league. Baer's victory would demonstrate both, hence Mr. Townley thus joins the issues in the cartoonist's candidacy.

But what of the farmers? What of Senator Brown? They are ignored, rejected and forgotten.

Many of the men who selected Mr. Baer as the league's candidate did not even reside in the First district. Mr. Townley hand-picked his convention as carefully as he did the delegates to the Fargo meeting when the state ticket was selected. Only the tried and true were called and in most instances the money was forwarded from the league's strong box to defray the traveling expenses.

Fortunately on July 10 a portion of North Dakota, at least, will have a chance to redeem itself or an opportunity to take a deeper plunge into socialism. Under the Townley dictum, Mr. Baer becomes the candidate of the socialists, Mr. Banks, the legitimate representative of the democratic party, and a third man, yet unnamed, will enter the list as standing for republican principles.

It is announced that Mr. Baer will run as a Non-partisan, which is a euphonious alias for a socialist.

The voters of the First district should bear in mind that the issues are clean cut between Townleyism (socialism), the democratic doctrine and republican principles. Mr. Baer should be forced to state his platform and if he is honest with the voters of the First district, he will state the socialistic platform of his master. A C. Townley.

If you feel that chill coming around the pedal extremities, try a little dash of patriotism.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

James Henry Thomas, labor leader, member of the British parliament and of the labor commission to this country, bears with him a practical war-torn message to the United States. Polled down, it might be stated thus:

"Outside, let us wage grim war upon the common enemy. Inside, let us drop past differences and have as near as may be a golden era of good will and mutual toleration."

The message comes at a good time for America, because America is yet to undergo trial in the fiery furnace of the most awful war in history. We can learn from Great Britain, because Britain is the nearest approach to America in institutions, laws, democratic government, unions of labor, and highly industrialized civilization. When the war broke out, relations between capital and labor in England were practically at the breaking point. So much was this the case that the German bureaucrats thought it would be impossible for Great Britain to be a serious factor in war. But when the very existence of the island empire was threatened, when freedom was on the point of being extinguished in a flash a truce was declared between labor and capital, and both sides, to their astonishment, learned that more could be obtained by friendly discussion than by bitter battle.

Labor leaders and capitalists met face to face and threshed out their differences. There was give and take, there were mutual concessions by both sides, but it worked. It worked for England. It worked also for a better understanding for the men and their employers. After awhile, trust was bred, and toleration, and good will.

The things thus gained when the country is under the shadow of war will not be lost in the sunshine of a righteous peace. There will be permanent advance all along the line, permanent benefit, permanent good.

What worked in Great Britain can be applied also in this country. All that is needed is for both labor and capital to remember that words of good will go farther than bitterness, than acrimonious debate, than strikes and lockouts, than the suffering and loss to both sides that serious disputes entail.

Remembering the great cause for which America is fighting, remembering how Great Britain solved her labor problems, it should be possible in this country to settle every dispute with justice, with equity and without unnecessary friction and economic loss.

What is so rare as a bride in June, now that the slacker's abroad in the land?

THE SPIRIT OF 1917.

If we Americans are worthy of the name, if we are worthy of our great inheritance, if we are worthy of the men of 1776 and of 1861, the spirit of 1917 will be a spirit of service.

We will serve in the ranks in our armies, if in that way we can best help our country.

We will serve with our money invested in Liberty Bonds, if in that way we can best help our country.

We will serve on the farms, if in that way we can best help our country.

Somewhere, somehow, we will serve.

Only in that way and in that spirit can we win victory for the immortal principles of liberty that America has stood for since the beginning of the great republic.

Many of these pacifist birds must be taking jail terms to get used to serving later in the guardhouse.

DOWN WITH TREASON.

This is a democratic country. The majority rules.

The majority has decided for a selective service army.

The vast majority of men between the birth days of 21 and 31 are registering according to law, proving that the majority supports the decision for a selective service army.

Who are these few—what meat do they eat—who they flaunt the will of the majority?

Do they propose that the United States shall now become an autocracy where they, the favored minority, the pampered few—an aristocracy of their own sweet will—shall rule this country?

The next few days will decide whether the self-willed few will be permitted by a democracy to snap their fingers at the orders of democracy.

A strong government during the next few days and weeks will exterminate this treason which would make universal service a service for the many, but not for all.

Will Washington arise to the occasion? Or will it temporize? We think not.

Down with the rule of the minority! Down with treason!

Let the June bride beware lest she take unto herself a slacker.

A LESSON FROM FRANCE.

Here is a little story that came over the seas in a letter from France, which illustrates better than volumes the spirit that is animating the French people: A young man was mobilized the very first day of the war, leaving behind him his wife, who was soon to become a mother.

While he was still in camp, he learned that a little son had arrived in his home. Borrowing a bicycle and taking the fearful risk of being accused of desertion in war time, he rode all night and spent an hour with his wife and baby, returning to his post without detection.

From that time on he fought bravely for France until he was blinded by shrapnel shell. Now he is back home on a tiny farm, trying to pick up the threads of his broken life. To a visitor who saw the man's little son cuddling against his knee, the postman said: "You know I saw him, I saw him one time!"

That was all—no rapturing, no complaint, no railing against fate and fortune, but, simple, thankful statement that, at least once before the great darkness it had been permitted him to see the boy he loved.

Now, that man's everyday patriotism, his love for country, his willingness to sacrifice all for France without question, is typical of French men and women. Until we can match this spirit, until we can resolve to throw all we have and are into the scales against brutal German militarism and despotism, America will not be fully awake, will not be doing her full duty to herself and nations everywhere that aspire to freedom and peace.

AS WE SURMISED.

Farmers of North Dakota were bunched by Herbert E. Gaston, socialist editor of the Non-partisan daily paper of Fargo, who wired a purported interview from Herbert C. Hoover, that the grain exchanges were to be put out of business and that the federal government was ready to swallow the socialist program, bait, hook and all.

Now comes Mr. Hoover and denies the interview as a "wild dream." In repudiation of Gaston's dream, Mr. Hoover said:

"(The government) does not intend to put the grain exchanges out of business during the period of the war."

"It is not preparing to purchase the entire grain production of the country; and

"It does not contemplate taking complete charge now of the export business."

This program was declared to have been outlined the previous evening at a conference of Northwestern farmers with Mr. Hoover.

That must have been an imposing interview in the Hoover suite at the New Willard. There was "Limelight Bill" Langer, Gaston, Aandahl, et al., of the Non-partisan regime. Mr. Hoover smoked quietly and listened to the plot to use this crisis to foist an unpatriotic, a selfish and mercenary program upon the federal administration.

He smiled benignly and dismissed them, and the North Dakotans left. Where the mendacious interview was penned and under what stimulus we know not.

How much longer are the farmers of the state going to be misled by false interviews to bolster up a declining cause?

This Washington episode in which even President Wilson was quoted by Mr. Gaston as endorsing the Non-partisan league program was daring and unscrupulous, to say the least, but part and parcel of the campaign which Townley always wages.

Gaston, Langer and others had in mind the First district congressional campaign and they went to Washington determined to send back the impression that Wilson and Hoover were all but ready to take out honorary memberships in Townley's Non-partisan league.

America Fights in Self-Defense

In the Name of Freedom we Challenge with Ships and Men and Money that word "Verboten," Asserts Lane on Eve of War Registration.

Washington, D. C., June 5.—"On the eve of war registration day, Secretary Lane made a speech before the home club of the interior department last night, in which he addressed a word to those who have not seen clearly the reason for the committee's call upon its young men and in ringing sentences answered the question, 'Why are we fighting Germany?' 'America is at war,' Mr. Lane said. 'In self-defense, and because she could not keep out; she is at war to save herself with the rest of the world from the nation that has linked itself with the Turk and adopted the methods of Mahomet, setting itself to make the world how before policies backed by its organized and scientific military system.'

"Tomorrow is registration day," said the secretary. "It is the duty of all, their legal as well as their patriotic duty to register if within the class called. There are some who have not clearly seen the reason for that call. To these I would speak a word."

WHY ARE WE FIGHTING?
"Why are we fighting Germany? The brief answer is that ours is a war of self-defense. We did not wish to fight Germany. She made the attack upon us, not on our shores, but on our ships, our lives, our rights, our future. For two years and more we held to a neutrality that made us apologists for things which outraged man's common sense of fair play and humanity."

"At each new offense—the invasion of Belgium, the killing of civilian Belgians, the attacks on Scarborough and other defenseless towns, the laying of mines in neutral waters, the fencing off of the seas—and on and on through the months we said: 'This is war—arrogant, uncivilized war—but war. All rules have been thrown away, all nobility man has come down to primitive brute, and while we cannot justify we will not intervene. It is not our war.'"

WE COULDN'T KEEP OUT—
"Then why are we in? Because we could not keep out. The invasion of Belgium, which opened the war, led to the invasion of the United States by slow, steady, logical steps. Our sympathies evolved into a conviction of self-interest. Our love of fair play ripened into alarm at our own peril."

WAR TO SAVE AMERICA—
"And so we came into this war for ourselves. It is a war to save America, to preserve self-respect, to justify our right to live as we have lived, not as some one else wishes us to live. In the name of freedom we challenge with ships and men, money and an undaunted spirit, that word 'verboten,' which Germany has written upon the sea and upon the land. For America is not the name of so much territory. It is a living spirit, born in travail, grown in the rough school of bitter experiences, a living spirit which has purpose and pride—knows why it wishes to live and to what end, knows how it comes to be respected of the world, and hopes to retain that respect by living on with the light of Lincoln's love of man as its old and new testament."

SEVANT GIRL PUNISHED ON BED OF NEEDLES

"Frau Margaret Kleinwurt, a lady of independent means, and her daughter Irma were tried before the divisional court at Ulm on the charge of grossly ill-treating their maidservant, a seventeen-year-old girl of somewhat feeble mentality," reports the Mulhouse Volksblatt.

"It appeared that the girl was systematically deprived of food, although Frau Kleinwurt and her daughter had plenty for themselves. So emaciated was her condition that the bones almost protruded through her skin, and her body, which was all inflamed, showed long scratches running crisscross over the surface."

"These two women admitted having inflicted by forcing her to lie naked on a bed of needles and pins over which she was rolled, so that the points scratched and tore her skin."

"Incredible though it may seem, both the accused actually declared in court that they tormented the girl simply for amusement. Their son and brother, they said, had gone to the war, friends visited them but rarely, the picture houses and theatres bored them, and they therefore found an uncommon entertainment in the

TEN BILLION TO BE SPENT SAYS M'ADOO

Secretary of Treasury Declares

United States Is to Enjoy Unprecedented Prosperity

ONLY REFUSAL OF PEOPLE CAN CHECK GOOD TIMES

Urges at New York Mass Meeting That Nation Support Administration Tax Measure

New York, June 5.—Ten billion dollars to be spent during the coming year by the United States and the allied governments for the products of American farms, mines and factories, Secretary McAdoo declared here last night, will bring to the country the greatest prosperity in its history.

"Some people profess apprehension about the future of business," said Mr. McAdoo. "Why, gentlemen, prosperity in the next 12 months will be greater than it ever has been in our history. You cannot prevent it if you try. The only thing that could stop prosperity measures of this country would be the refusal of the people to support the reasonable measures of taxation that are needed, and to buy the bonds of the government."

The secretary addressed a great mass meeting at Carnegie hall in behalf of the Liberty Loan, which, he warned, if everyone did his duty, would succeed only if everyone did his duty. He appealed to those who cannot fight on the battle front to supply the means that will enable the government to provide for the soldiers who go to the front.

Offers a Privilege.
"We have offered this great Liberty Loan," he said. "What does it mean? It means that your government offers you a privilege, it asks you men and women not to give something to your government, but to buy the best investment on earth, something that is as safe as currency, yet better than currency, because currency does not bear interest, while these bonds do bear interest at three per cent. It asks you to buy within your means in order that the government may be supplied with money to properly equip our brave men, who have to go on the field of battle to protect your lives, your liberty and property must bear its share of the burden."

"If this war continues for another 12 months, it is probable that the total amount of financing that the government will have to do to cover its own expenditures and to extend the necessary credit to the allied government will amount to $10,000,000,000. It is proposed that only 78 per cent of this colossal sum, namely $1,800,000,000 shall be raised by new taxation. When one considers the magnitude of this task and the probable economic effects of the sale of $8,200,000,000 of bonds within 12 months and the expenditure of the proceeds in the purchase in this country, it does not seem prudent or wise to provide by new taxation a less amount than $1,800,000,000."

Serious Danger.
"There is always a serious danger of hurtful inflation in war time when such great bond issues must be made. A reasonable amount of wholesale taxation, properly distributed, is the best corrective. The worst mistake made by the federal government at the outbreak of the Civil war was its failure to impose taxation vigorously and sufficiently. This led to a train of evils, hurtful to the credit of the government, and resulted in unnecessary sacrifices of human life and treasure."

"To men it is a sad spectacle to see committees of various kinds coming to Washington and urging congress that the particular interest they represent be relieved of taxation when, at the same time, our gallant boys are walking offices throughout the registration offices throughout the land, signifying their willingness to die if need be, in their country's cause. You men and women who create public opinion in this country must make yourselves heard, and tell your representatives in congress that you are willing to support any policy which is more considerate of the interests of property than it is of the lives of our brave and unselfish soldiers."

"We shall not fail if everyone does his duty, but I warn you that these great things do not achieve themselves. They can only be achieved through the combined energy, determination and spirit of the American people. It is not enough of an answer to the challenge thrown down to us that we subscribe grudgingly or barely two billion dollars of Liberty Bonds. Our answer to the military autocracies of the earth must be that the American people have billions to sacrifice in the cause of liberty and self government throughout the world."

"The first thing we must do is to raise the money to equip our armies and put them in the field and to extend credit to the great nations of Europe, which are co-operating with us. We must give the credit to enable them to purchase here the necessary supplies and munitions of war, in order that they may make their soldiers more effective for battle. The more effective we make them, the more we enable them to fight and to fight hard, the more quickly this war will come to an end, and the less chance there will be that we shall have to send a great army of our youth to Europe, and God knows we want to avoid that if we honorably can."

An Awful Sight With Itching Pimples On Face. Healed By Cuticura Costing 75c.

"One morning I noticed a pimple on my face at the corner of my mouth. It itched and I scratched it so that in a few days pimples were all over my chin and neck. They festered and when I scratched water would come out and they were in blotches as big as a dime. I lost sleep over them, for when my face touched the pillow, the pimples smarted something terrible. My face was an awful-looking sight.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After the first application I noticed that my face did not itch so. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and they were not quite used when the pimples were healed." (Signed) Mrs. L. Gouneau, 325 W. 8th St. Superior, Wis., Oct. 19, 1916.

JOYFUL COLORS MARCH TO ALTAR

A bridal group looks like a gigantic, gorgeous orchid, the bridesmaids being the tinted petals of the blossom, the bride being that stunning dash of white which marks the rarest flowers. Therefore the style of the bridesmaids' dresses is far less important than their color.

Each bridesmaid must help cut the wedding cake to insure herself a husband.

The bridesmaid who treads on the tail of a cat will not marry within a year.

The bridesmaid who wears a bride's yellow garter will marry in a twelve month.

Good Omens for Brides.

A gift of butter to a bride is an omen of great riches.

Good luck will follow the bride who weeps on her wedding day.

The bride who hears a cat sneeze on the eve of her wedding day is sure of happiness.

Good luck symbols in the bridal bouquet are orange blossoms, mistletoe, laurel and myrtle.

"OLD SWIMMING HOLE" IN BOBBY HARRON PLAY

In "The Bad Boy," the new Triangle Fine Arts drama starring Robert Harron, there is a swimming hole scene that will recall to every grown up boy who sees the picture fond recollections of the days when he answered to a nickname and knew what it meant when a playmate yelled, "Yoo-hoo!" and held two fingers aloft in the air.

And was there ever a community so destitute of natural advantages that it failed to provide a swimming hole? At any rate Frank E. Woods, author of "The Bad Boy," must have had access to one or he would not have

WOMEN BEHIND THRONE MAY DRIVE AUSTRIA TO PEACE

EMPERESS ZITA

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Austria's desire for peace, as expressed in Emperor Charles' speech to the Reichsrath, comes not from the young emperor, but from his wife, Empress Zita. In the opinion of men here well versed in affairs of European royalty, Empress Zita is the woman behind the throne in Austria. The emperor is young and still unaccustomed to his exalted position. But the influence of his wife has imbued him with a greater degree of forcefulness.

Women of nobility in Austria have tried to win the emperor's favor by their charm and beauty, but Empress Zita has won him by her love for him and her desire that he stand high in the favor of the people.

Of all persons in the Austrian empire, Empress Zita alone has felt the needs of the people. The result, it is felt here, was her husband's startling speech to the Reichsrath—peace with no annexations, no indemnities.

In spite of her unpopularity in the Hapsburg family, the empress has been the only woman in the eyes of her husband. She has made him a national hero and has been doing so since the beginning of his reign.

Empress Zita is striving to make the emperor the most cherished ruler Austria ever had, and she regards his peace speech as one step ahead.

All the credit Empress Zita seeks, it is said, is the love and admiration of her husband.

Children Make Merry

Because of the inclemency of the weather the kindergarten children held their picnic indoors in the Will school instead of on the capital grounds. The little tots amused themselves with various games. A splendid picnic dinner was served. Miss Matilda Williams, the director, was in charge.

TRAVELED OVER APPIAN WAY

Paul and His Companions Adventurous Journey to Rome.

"All roads lead to Rome," said a Latin proverb. When Paul and his companions, after the adventurous journey in which they suffered shipwreck on the island of Malta, landed in Italy they found brethren in Puteoli, now called Pozzuoli, near Naples, and "were desired to tarry with them seven days," and then the narrator of the journey says "we went toward Rome."

Luke does not tell us by what road they traveled, but we can be sure that it was by the great Appian way, already three hundred years old, which was built by Appius Claudius, a Roman censor, from Rome to Capua, a point not very far from the port where the prisoners landed.

From Capua to Rome was a distance of 125 miles. Paul and his companions probably walked the whole distance, but were met at the Three Taverns, 17 miles from Rome, and at Appii Forum, or the market of Appius, ten miles from Rome, by delegations from the infant church in Rome.

This great highway was built of hewn stones laid in cement, and averaged about 20 feet wide. Parts of the road are still in excellent preservation.

The Three Taverns is identified by some ruins, which are pointed out to the modern tourists as the remains of the station at which Paul was met by his loving brethren from Rome, who had received news of his coming—probably by the system of posts which penetrated to all parts of the empire and resembled the modern post office, and through the Acta Diurna, or public bulletins which were a prototype of the modern newspaper.—Christian Herald.

Use of the Tourniquet.

A tourniquet is used to stop profuse bleeding from arteries. It consists of a strap to go around the limb, a pad to place on the artery and some means by which the pad may be made to press on the artery and stop the flow of blood. Many first-aid cabinets contain the United States army tourniquet. It consists of a strap made of webbing with a buckle and a catch on one end. It can be used around a limb by passing the end through the buckle and tightening up, making pressure on the whole circumference until the bleeding stops.

Doesn't Appeal to Him.

Another thing that is certain. The old fog who was raised on banjo and tuning fork music is not going to get wild over the ukelele noise.—Houston Post.

The Modern Baby.

Now an oculist has discovered that baby's white raiment injures his vision. They've taken away his cradle and his old-time remedies and his fairy stories, and now they want to pinch his snowy pinafore.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Get at The Source of Your "Skin Diseases"

Don't be misled by this term, for the appearance of pimples, boils or rashes indicate something more serious than a mere "breaking out" of the skin. These eruptions are, in reality, signals from nature that the blood is impoverished, debilitated and in need of help. Of course you can sometimes drive away the infected places by applying a salve or lotion, but unless you treat them through the medium of the blood, they will occur again and again.

S. S. S. has proven its wonderful building and tonic properties in thousands of cases arising from disorders of the blood. It washes the poisons from the system and aids the blood in its work of cleansing and invigorating the body organs, throwing off waste matter, and keeping the body in a normal, healthy condition.

Prove these facts for yourself by taking a bottle of S. S. S. and write to our Medical Department for information about your case. Swift Specific Co., 304 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

CAPITOL NOTES

LADD TO BE HERE

Pres. E. P. Ladd of the agricultural college this morning advised the railway commission that he will be here a week from tomorrow for a conference relative to the placing in operation of the grain grading act.

WANT LOWER RATES

Sullivan & Sullivan of Mandan protest to the railway commission that since the interests of Mandan and Bismarck have become to generally united, telephone traffic has expanded until the present trans-river cable is not sufficient to accommodate the business, and they suggest that a conference of Mandan and Bismarck patrons be held with Manager F. L. Shuman of the North Dakota Independent Telephone Co. to see whether another cable cannot be strung across the river, and perhaps, toll charges reduced from fifteen cents the talk to ten.

THERE IS A LANGER

A few days ago someone bewailed the fact that while there are many Washingtons, and Franklins, and Lincolns on the map of America there was not a single "Langer". Now someone else has gotten busy and discovered a little Langer, tucked away between Casselton and Persis on a branch line of the Northern Pacific, in Cass county, and the country's saved.

DRINK LOTS OF MILK

L. J. Inderbitzen, representing Horlick's Malted Milk Co., was in the capital today contracting for supplies for the various state institutions. Incidentally, Mr. Inderbitzen comments that the per capita consumption of this popular lactical composition in Bismarck is among the highest in the country.

GOLDFINCHES HERE

M. J. O'Connor who finds time between car trips to get acquainted with the bird life of the city reports among recent arrivals two beautiful goldfinches, strangers from the Rocky mountain country. These golden beauties are distinguished by black bars on their wings, and they have taken up their home in the big box eiders surrounding the O'Connor home.

CALL OUT THE GUARD

Capital folk are seriously discussing calling out the guard to rescue one George Foster, assistant attorney general. Assistant attorney "general" in North Dakota may be only slightly less dangerous than "chiefing" the job. Mr. Foster left some ten days ago for Bloomington to take unto himself a wife. He promised his friends faithfully to return to Bismarck last Saturday. He advised officially he would be on the job again Monday. Here it is Tuesday, and Mr. Foster hasn't shown up. Friends are really beginning to worry for fear that the assistant attorney general no longer is controller of his own destinies.

WISCONSIN MAN NAMED

Stewart S. Williams, graduate of Lawrence university at Appleton, Wis., and who has had library training at Madison, Wis., and legislative experience in the 1915 session of the Badger state legislature, has been named by the state public library commission legislative reference librarian, to assume his new duties July 1. Since 1915, Mr. Williams has been connected with the library bureau at Chicago and has taken graduate work at Northwestern. He comes to North Dakota with high recommendations.

GOES TO GRAND FORKS

Ex-Superintendent of Public Instruction E. J. Taylor, formerly superintendent of schools in Grand Forks county, left today for that shire, where he will deliver commencement addresses at Orr, Niagara and Emery on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday respectively.

MAKES ANOTHER EFFORT

Another effort by George W. Linton to recover title to $75,000 worth of swamp lands in Emmons county, was made in supreme court this afternoon, when the former state's attorney of Emmons county made a motion to vacate the judgment in favor of the Patterson Land Co. of St. Paul, sustained by the supreme court in a previous hearing. The case is one of the most interesting which has ever come before the chief tribunal of the state, and many important questions are involved. The origin of the litigation extends back to pioneer days in Emmons county, when land was selling at $1.50 the acre.

PITCH TO BATTERS' FEET TO FOOL 'EM

By PAUL PURMAN.

"Pitch to a batter's feet.
"A boxer watches his opponent's feet to tell what he plans to do. A pitcher, by watching a batter's feet, can tell which way the batter plans to hit, pitch to him accordingly, and spoil his plans."

"That's the secret of successful pitching, according to Clark Griffith, Washington manager, and in his day one of the greatest of pitchers.
"It takes more than speed and curves to win ball games," Griffith continued. "It takes more than speed, curves and change of pace. It takes brains."

"Look over the records of any of the pitchers who lasted any length of time in the majors and find the answer.
"Matthewson pitched winning ball for several years after he felt himself slipping. He did it by studying batters and pitching what they could not hit effectively."

"Eddie Plank developed a slow ball after he found his speed and curves were not enough to get him by. He has always studied batters.
"There are few batters who can hit anything. When you get hold of a Wagner or a Lajoie a prayer is about the most effective thing."

"With most batters it is easy to tell from the way they stand at the plate as a pitcher starts winding up what they intend to do. Then the wise pitcher, by watching the batter's feet, can change his ball and cross them. It throws a batter off his balance and if he does not connect with the ball the chances are he will pop up a little fly or foul or ground weakly to the infield. If he does connect with the ball it will land in territory well covered by waiting fielders."

"For instance—a left hand batter is about to hit into left field. As the pitcher starts to wind up the batter steps nearer the plate. The pitcher, without changing or stopping, his windup can shoot the ball to the inside of the plate and the batter, if he connects at all will catch the ball close up to his hands on the handle of the bat and hit weakly."

"The left hand batter decides to hit into right field, the natural place for him to hit. He is further away from the plate taking his natural swing. The pitcher, watching the batter's feet, puts the ball across the outside corner of the plate so the batter can't pull it into right field."

"The batter is thrown off his balance and probably will not hit safely."
"The great hitters in the day when Griffith was pitching winning ball declare he was the most tantalizing man to face in the league. The reason was, Griffith was outguessing them. He was making them hit when they were off their balance. That's where he got his name 'the old fox.'"

Upper picture shows position of left hand batter's feet when he tries to hit into left field. Upper diagram shows how the wise pitcher cuts the inside of the plate. This not only prevents the batter from hitting into left field if he gets hold of the ball, but makes it probable that he will catch the ball on the handle of his bat and be an easy out.

Lower picture shows position of left hand batter's feet when trying to hit into right field. Diagram shows pitcher putting ball over outside of plate, making it difficult for him to connect safely.

Sport Gossip

The best way to putt is to hit the ball, remarks a facetious contemporary. Better than that, don't play golf.
Chicago judges were arrested at a prize fight. It was anything like some fights they should have been glad of it.

Harry Pollock protested because the referee didn't let Freddie Welsh get worse beaten up the other night. Harry must have been sore at losing a meat ticket.

The only thing about the abolition of the nineteenth hole would be that a lot of golfers would not win so many games.
Kuss Ford invented the emery ball.

Nobody seems to want to claim having invented the baseball.
Games called on account of rain. The only ones Hugh Jennings and Jim Callahan are winning.
Ty Cobb failed to get a hit in a doubleheader. Pitchers probably will at proving them for Ty now with George Mortality. A ball player said something to George the other day and George didn't light.

Jackson nearly scored a knockout, headline: a contest. Which count about as much as the near trip caught at the fence.
Sam Gompers asks that people give up their valets as a war measure.

Annoying young women who are patriotic spirited enough to offer their services to the Northern Pacific Railway company should never be permitted in any city, town or village. It don't care where it is. This is a serious matter and I hope that it will be stopped. I regret to tell you on my first trip to Mandan I find that we are to lose two of our best women employees in the round house family have been subjected to humiliation and ridicule by people who don't appreciate loyalty or patriotism, said Supt. The case was called before Judge H. J. L. Hunk. Yesterday afternoon, the plaintiff, J. J. Strain brought action against John Huncovsky to recover damages, and other punishment if the court so desired, for alleged damages done to his timothy field by the Huncovsky cattle trampling constantly over it. Several witnesses were examined and the hearing lasted some time. Attorney C. F. Kirsch appeared for the plaintiff and J. A. Hoder appeared for the defendant.

It wasn't until about three months ago that Benny even began to talk about an automobile. When necessary he'd use a taxi, but serious thought of owning a machine of his own was "something else again."

Benny isn't what could be called a miser, or anything like that. He's just naturally careful with his money. His advice is:

"Be careful what you do with your money. Form careful habits and live a clean life. Old age won't worry you then."

Benny lives his preaching. There'll be no wild orkies for him. Harlem is naturally a frugal place, and Benny has the habit.

Benny is one of the most saving kids that ever slammed over a knock-out.

Benny has had some months of prosperity, but you'd never have known by the looks of things that he carried a bank roll that would stagger half the men in Wall street. He just kept sailing away the gate receipts, wearing a path to the bank.

After every fight Benny would hike for a telephone call for his mother and tell her what happened—usually a victory—and more cash in the Leonard list.

GOOD DEEDS ARE FORGOTTEN
Single Mistake at End of Useful Career Will Obliterate All the Goodness of a Lifetime.

The recollection of a single bad act will many times outlive the good of a lifetime. Although we prefer to believe that the influence of a well-spent life is felt through successive generations, yet it does seem that "the evil that men do lives after them," while "the good is oft interred with their bones." There are numerous instances of persons whose places in history and in the memories of men are fixed by a single misdeed rather than by the many acts of virtue which have preceded it, observes a writer in the Editorial. In the shadow of the evil the good is forgotten. One mistake coming at the end of a career of usefulness and right living will obliterate or obscure the goodness of a lifetime. Judas Iscariot is remembered as the disciple who betrayed his Savior. Only through years of unremitting service and martyrdom was Peter able to save his name from going down in history simply as that of the one who denied his Master. Benedict Arnold's name suggests nothing but a betrayer of his country, yet his acts of gallantry and heroism in its defense might well serve as an inspiration to the youth and manhood of the land. Marshal Bazaine who faithfully served France for 40 years, participated in many battles and campaigns in Spain, Algeria, Italy, the Crimea and Mexico, is solely remembered by his capitulation at Metz, when three marshals, over 6,000 officers and 173,000 men became prisoners of war. For this act this man, who had received the highest military honors from his country, was court-martialed and sentenced to degradation and death, a sentence commuted to 20 years' imprisonment.—Exchange.

STORY TOLD IN AN EPITAPH
Farmer Gives in One Sentence His Opinion as to What Caused Fatal Automobile Accident.

An automobile accident resulted in the death of the driver and the injury of two passengers. The coroner summoned several witnesses, among them a farmer living near the scene of the accident. There was voluminous testimony regarding the high speed at which the car traveled. Witnesses said, too, that the road was in bad repair. The coroner finally reached the farmer, who lived near the scene. "What would you say about this accident, Mr. Swiggert?" the coroner asked. "Well, if I was writin' that young man's epitaph," the witness drawled, "I'd say he died tryin' to get 60 miles out of a ten-mile road."

Debt and Progress.

I have just read in this morning's paper the sad account of an attempt at suicide, says a writer in Farm and Fireside. The doctor says the man may live, and I hope so, for he is an acquaintance of mine and he has a wife and four children who need him. Poor fellow, he is just in his prime—only forty-two—when a man can do so much with his life. The reason for the act was financial trouble, with poor health as a contributing cause, and that is why I want to say a few words on the subject of debt, which so often brings worry and finally ill health and despondency. The ordinary debt contracted for a useful or needful purpose is looked upon in the business world as an important instrument of progress. And yet I know that even when the fundamentals of credit are explained to some people they can see only their personal side of the matter, which is a dread of getting into debt if they are out of it, and an eagerness to get out if they are in it. Sensitive people, inexperienced in money matters, lie awake nights worrying over small and legitimate debts to which their creditors give scarcely a thought.

GOVERNOR NAMES HIS STATE BOARD OF ELECTRICIANS

Two Fargo Men on Commission Created by 15th Assembly—Foster Succeeds White

T. S. McDonald and W. S. Hewlett of Fargo and A. L. Avis of Jamestown, with State Fire Marshal H. L. Rode as member ex-officio comprise North Dakota's first state board of electricians. Governor Frazier's appointments were announced today. McDonald is the journeyman member, and is named for four years. Hewlett, appointed for two years, is the master electrician member, and Avis, for two years, is the electrical engineer of the board. Representatives of these three divisions are prescribed by law.

The board will meet at the capitol the first day of July and the first day of January of each year for the examination and licensing of electricians. The state fire marshal is made electrical inspector and it is made his duty to provide for adequate local inspection of all electrical work under the rules of the national board of fire underwriters.

Foster Succeeds White. The governor also announced today the appointment of J. J. Foster of Bismarck to be member of the live stock sanitary board for five years, succeeding Mayor Alf White of Dickinson.

CAPITAL CITY BANKS ORGANIZE CLEARING HOUSE

At a meeting of the banks of the city held Monday, June 4th, a Clearing House Association was organized to go into effect July 14. C. B. Little was elected president and B. C. Marks, secretary and manager, for the ensuing year, and a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

The object of the Clearing House is for assistance in co-operative action along all banking lines and for the daily clearance of checks and is in line with associations already formed in Fargo, Grand Forks, Minot and other points in the state. The Bismarck Clearing House will at once apply for admission to the General Clearing House Association and will in one more way assist in putting the Capital City on the map.

Rating of Salespeople. While it is true that in retail selling, to take a familiar illustration, the final success of the sales person is measured by the individual volume of sales, the description of and the specifications for a selling position can never be adequately stated alone in terms of goods sold. To do so is to miss certain basic principles which go to make selling success, and to confuse the sales person whose efficiency is necessarily a composite of both personal and impersonal elements brought into skillful play throughout the process of selling.—Roy W. Kelly, in Industrial Management.

MANY NEGLECT THEIR EYES

May Be Conscious of Strain but Go Right on Doing Things That Make It Worse.

"A great many men who are well enough informed on other topics do not know the first principles of how to conserve their eyesight," Dr. Eugene L. Fisk is quoted in World's Work. "They may be conscious of eye strain and yet unconsciously go right on doing many things to increase that strain. Things such as these—reading a newspaper on the jagged street car, working with a light directly behind them or directly in their faces, reading or working in too bright a glare or in a dim or flickering illumination. They do not realize that they might well limit their allowance of moving pictures. They do not know the harm in too brilliant a desk light. They buy worthless patent nostrums for the eyes and have a positive dread about adopting glasses. The price they pay for all this often is extremely dear. It ranges from constant physical discomfort to loss of sight."

Drank With Care.
A gentleman happened to go into a seaside hotel to dine the other night. The hotel was rather full, so he was given a vacant place at a table already occupied. It did not take him long to become acquainted, and he chatted away merrily, in spite of the fact that he only drank water.

Seated opposite to him was an old gentleman whose face betokened him to be a heavy whisky drinker. He appeared to be particularly struck with the "water drinker," and when opportunity occurred he whispered across the table.

"You know, my doctor says water is an excellent thing, and I should drink a lot of it."
"Then do you?" asked the other.
"Oh, yes," said the old "un. Then, nervously looking around, he added: "In the night! In the night!"—San Francisco News-Letter.

A Vacation.
An evangelist said in a temperance address in Boston:
"The booze even gets into men's vacations and tangles them up."
"A Manayunkier took the steamer for Boston with his wife. But the minute he got aboard he disappeared in the black, ill-smelling hole they called the bar."

"His wife, some hours later, hurried down to the bar and said to him: "Oh, George, come on up and see the scenery. The hills and woods are just beautiful."
"Ah, what do I care about your hills and woods. Do you think I'm going to lose my vacation over hills and woods?"

Chance to Get Fintwall's Goat

FOR SALE—Goat with harness and cart.—Apply 925 North 7th street.

Here's a chance, respectfully referred to certain Minot parties, to get C. W. Fintwall's goat.

That particular animal, often sought, has seemed more or less un-gettable. Now we have Mr. Fintwall voluntarily offering it to the highest bidder.

Through sheer inquisitiveness, a goat being a rather unusual animal to advertise, some one took the pains to locate the butter to which the above went—ad. in The Tribune, referred.

The discovery that said goat was the property of Mr. Fintwall created a sensation only second to that which would be caused by Limelight Bill Lancer's return from Washington with a battery of artillery as a bodyguard.

Many there are who thought Mr. Fintwall had left his goat in Minot. Others who had sought it and sought in vain, asserted there wasn't any such animal. But evidently Minot didn't get Mr. Fintwall's goat. He brought it back to Bismarck with him, perhaps a little the worse for wear and tear and the consumption of Limelight Bill's griddle eggs—cooked, his press agent informed us, on the off side of a stove lid.

And now the goat's for sale. What a chance for Annheuser Busch! Although 'tis a little late for the 1917 bock beer season, it is just possible the breweries may have another spring in the sun, and it better bock beer butter than this one of the Rev. C. W. Fintwall couldn't be convinced. Le goat est mort; vive le goat!

Lantry Wins High Post

To Assist George T. Slade, Vice President of the Northern Pacific in War Business
TO ASSIST SLADE
St. Paul, June 4, 17.
H. C. Taylor, vice president of the Northern Pacific, has named Mr. Lantry as assistant vice president to assist Mr. Slade.

The above message was received by Agent Taylor, yesterday afternoon from President G. T. Slade of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, which is about to be explained as to the duties of Supt. T. H. Lantry, retiring prominent Yellowstone division superintendent. It is generally understood that "Supt. Lantry" a title which is said to drop will take a prominent part in assisting the Northern Pacific with doing "its bit" in the war.

The Tribune carried a story yesterday, the first story in the state, announcing the important change in the superintendency of the Yellowstone division. It was not known at that time what position he had been called to fill but all was aware it was an important birth.

Supt. Jacobus, the new division superintendent was in Maudan yesterday on his initial official trip as superintendent. He has long filled the important post as assistant to the general superintendent and although a young man has had long railroad experience.

SEEKING KIDNAPPED CHILD IN OZARKS

Springfield, Mo., June 5.—Info: The Ozark mountains today and tonight went searchers for the missing Lloyd Keet, 14 months old son of J. Holland Keet, wealthy Springfield banker. Citizens of Springfield and the surrounding country hope to discover the hiding place of those held responsible for the abduction of the baby.

The Ozark mountains hold Springfield in a tight embrace. For many miles they extend in all directions, heavily timbered and sparsely inhabited. In years past moonshiners, bands of thieves and others held their rendezvous in the almost inaccessible backwoods. But of recent years the law has reigned throughout the hills, the mountaineer feuds seemed to have ceased and Springfield had no fear of those who live in the hills.

To conduct thorough search The Keet kidnapping, however, has aroused the fear that the former haunts of the lawbreakers might again become the lairs of abduction bands, such helping that perhaps such a band had established itself near at hand, citizens of Springfield met today and determined to carry out a thorough search.

The other outstanding developments of today's search for the missing baby, was the growing conviction that Mr. Keet had determined to play a "lone hand" in ferretting out the raptors of his child. He refused aid of friends and officials in the search and told that such a search meant putting a dagger at the throat of his child.
